Did you know that when the church was being built, then-pastor Fr. Lux was interested in how the stained glass windows were made and was given the opportunity to make one. Fr. Lux's stained glass window was placed in the wall of the garage located in the parking lot between the school and the church.

Gospel Meditation

ENCOURAGE A DEEPER UNDERSTANDING OF SCRIPTURE

October 23, 2022 | 30th Sunday in Ordinary Time

There is a thing called “false piety.” It is when we wear a religious disguise of devotion, attend to our obligations, and outwardly abide by rules while being inwardly unkind, uncharitable, and exclusive. Wearing the right clothes, saying the proper prayers, being in sacred places, and reading devotional books, those exhibiting false piety craftily try to control others using the pretense of love. The Pharisees, consistently criticized by Jesus, are prime examples. Thinking they are superior to others, they foolishly believe they are better positioned with God and more worthy of God’s attention. Forming an exclusive “club,” they divide things between “mine” and “yours” and “us” and “them.” They quickly criticize and point out flaws and errors in rituals and thinking. Conformity becomes the first commandment and control is the game’s name.

The requirements for “club membership” are clear: do what we do, think what we think, and believe what we believe. Attempting to control others using the lure of “status” or “salvation,” they seduce others into thinking that conformity is the only way to holiness. Clinging to “my beliefs,” “my parish,” “my way of thinking,” they fail to see the more significant relationship with God that is veiled in all of these superficial rules and practices. Shallow, hollow, and empty vessels, they gloss over the more important virtues of justice, mercy, faithfulness, and forgiveness. Sparkling clean on the outside, but dirty on the inside. Spiritual arrogance is a grave sin. It alienates and hurts the little ones, those considered “least” in the kingdom.

God knows no favorites. Everyone belongs regardless of whether you are an official, bona fide member. Sometimes membership may be a detriment to actually living the Gospel if you’re joining the team for the wrong reasons. The genuinely humble ones may not appear to be overly “pious.” They may not know all of the proper prayers or abide by all of the correct rituals, but they know that they are broken and need mercy. There is no shame in being broken. In fact, many things need to be broken in order to be what they truly are! There is a reason Jesus told us to pray in private. It’s only between you and God. It is nobody else’s business.

SEEING GOD IN OUR ORDINARY MOMENTS

“More Than a Buzzword”

If you roll your eyes at the mention of the term stewardship, it’s probably because, in the modern Church, stewardship has become something of a corporate buzzword. It’s often used interchangeably with the concepts of financial endowment and volunteerism.

What’s wrong with supporting your parish monetarily? What’s the issue with giving of your time in service and ministry? Nothing at all, in fact — we should all be doing more of these things.

But as we do them, we should be constantly asking ourselves the all-important questions: Why am I doing this? How am I doing this? For whom am I doing this?

A donation to the parish school is a great thing. But ideally, the donor would have made the gift regardless of the ability to name the school gym. A tireless volunteer who always finds time for her parish certainly glorifies God with her commitment. But hopefully, her commitment would be just as enthusiastic if she knew there was no prospect of being written up in the bulletin as Volunteer of the Month.

God knows no favorites. The prayer of the Pharisee in the temple did not justify him because the Pharisee didn’t really mean it as a prayer. His intent wasn’t to thank God, his intent was to draw attention to his gifts. God did not reject the Pharisee’s fasting and his tithes, he rejected the spirit in which they were offered.

God desires to transform us — our hearts, our souls, our communities. When we give of ourselves — either through money or through time — he is honored by the act of giving, not the gift itself. We should never make the mistake of thinking that stewardship is “time, talent, and treasure.” Stewardship is the spirit of offering these gifts freely.

— Tracy Earl Welliver, MTS

Question: What is a sacramental seal and where did it come from?

Answer: Leaving more than just a memory, there are some events in our life that are truly transforming, making us different people. The same thing can be said of spiritual things, especially sacraments. a sacramental seal or character is a theological concept to describe the life-changing and permanent effect of three sacraments on the person: baptism, confirmation, and holy orders. The catechism of the catholic church teaches that these sacraments confer a seal "by which the Christian shares in Christ's priesthood and is made a member of the church according to different states and functions. this configuration to Christ and the church, brought about by the spirit, is indelible".

Once we receive these sacraments, we are forever changed. it's a spiritual "point of no return" whereby we take a step forward in our faith journey. We are marked as people of faith, as those who have received the spirit and as those called to serve in ordained ministry. That is why these sacraments are received only once. the direction is set, the choice is made, and we are called by god to be his people. Nothing can change that, not even our own sinfulness.

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

Dear Parishioners,

We welcome Damian Mihuta into our Catholic family as he is baptized this weekend after the 11am Mass. May he know the joy of a relationship with his Creator.

We received a generous donation of $5,000.00 from the estate of Irene Venesky, a parishioner of St. Leo's whose funeral Mass was in February of this year. We are grateful that she remembered us in her will and pray that God may reward her goodness to us.

I spoke with someone from the travel agency who is arranging the trip to Italy in March and he told me that the reservations received have been better than expected so he asked me to encourage you to get your reservations in as soon as possible if you have not done so yet so that they can make the necessary airline and hotel accommodations. Apparently many people are anxious to travel again due to the restrictions that COVID placed on people throughout the world so this is a good sign that things are returning to normal. There are no COVID vaccination or testing requirements so that is certainly good news as well. So thanks to all who have turned in their registration forms to us. If you're on the fence, I'll just say that I'm taking advantage of the opportunity to travel while I know I am healthy enough to do so since we never know what can block us from checking that off of our bucket list in the future. While there is no cut off date at this point, it does make it easier for the company to make the necessary arrangements if they have a good idea of how many seats & rooms to reserve so the sooner the better. If you have any questions at all, please feel free to reach out to me by calling the rectory office at 216-661-1006 or by sending me an email at jschmitz@leothegreat.org. I'm excited to join so many of you in a place that is so rich with both secular and church history. And of course there's the pasta...never forget about the pasta!

My step mother fell last week & fractured her hip...something that the elderly & their loved ones always worry about. The good news is that she opted to have surgery which she came through just fine, which was a relief given her age. She is recovering at a nursing home and will hopefully be back with my dad at Vitalia in Strongsville by Thanksgiving.

We figured out a way to get us through those rare but frustrating times when the internet goes down, especially on a weekend while we're live-streaming Mass. If that happens again, we should be able to use a phone and its cellular service to provide the live-stream. We're also working to see if we can have our phone system...which also requires the internet...to automatically transfer all calls to a cell phone so that again, you won't be inconvenienced by not being able to get a hold of us. Technology is great and extremely convenient when it works...but frustrating when it's "out of order." So hopefully we can remedy these two situations in the event our internet service goes down.

I'm sad to let you know that Mildred Ancin, Father Vesely's sister, died this past Monday evening. You may recall that she fell & broke her hip after Father Vesely died & was in surgery during his funeral services so she was not able to be present for the wake or funeral Mass. While she recovered from the broken hip & surgery, she continued to decline physically & mentally. I visited with her at Mount Alverna just a couple of days before she died and was relieved to see that she was in no discomfort. She was very close to her brother and now they are together in death as they were in life. I do not know of the funeral arrangements yet but I ask that you keep her and her brother in your prayers. May they both rest in God's peace.

Fr. James Schmitz

HURRICANE RELIEF COLLECTION

The United States Conference of Catholic Bishops, prompted by the recent hurricanes and calamities that followed, is asking parishes to consider taking up a voluntary special collection to support the church and humanitarian needs arising from the disasters. Collected funds will be used where they are most needed.

Funds collected will be used to support the efforts of the USSCB for pastoral and reconstruction needs of the church and Catholic Charities USA/Catholic Relief Services, the official relief agencies of the U.S. Catholic Church, as they and their local agencies/partners respond to immediate emergency needs for such necessities as water, food, shelter, and medical care and in aid in long term rebuilding and recovery efforts.

If you would please consider contributing to this special emergency collection during the extra collection during next weekend's Masses on October 29th/30th.

FAITH FORMATION

Fr. Jim visited the Faith Formation group last Sunday and asked volunteers to help him demonstrate last week's reading from the Exodus 17:8-13, which tells of Moses standing on top of the hill with the staff of God in his hand as war was being waged against Israel by Amalek. As long as Moses' hands were held up in prayer Israel had the better of the fight. After time, Moses' arms grew weak and to ensure his prayers remained strong, his men held his hands up for him in support of the prayers being sent up to God. With this act, Israel had won the battle!

In a time where we see and hear "I'll keep you in my prayers" or "Our thoughts and prayers are with you" so much so often, may the magnitude of the power of those words and meaning behind them never be lost in the repetition—but, rather, grow stronger with support. To pray for someone or something in numbers, as a family, as a group, as a church, can build up our faith and enlighten us to the way God responds to our requests.
