Almsgiving is a private thing. You share what you have with a neighbor you do not know and who does not know you, but it is an act of service to those in need. Let us share with others especially during these trying times.

Any donation you are able to make to the SVDP Outreach Organization will very much appreciated. You can put your donation in the Poor Boxes, or put it in an envelope marked "SVDP" and put it in the collection basket or drop it off at the rectory. Your help is very much appreciated. Thank you!

BIBLE STUDY | GOSPEL OF JOHN

St. Leo Parishioners, Greg and Pat Dolezal, are hosting a new Bible study on the Gospel of John. Learn about the people who encountered Jesus and their reactions. Meetings are held every other Thursday from 6:30 - 8:00 pm. The next meeting is Thursday, April 25 at their home. Address: 4839 W. 13th St. Please call Greg (507.640.6651) or Pat (330.933.4992) with any questions or interest.

THE NEOCATECHUMENAL WAY

In the Easter season we celebrate the fact that Christ has conquered sin and death! To bring this fact closer to home, there will be a series of catechesis or talks in the parish that are aimed to cultivate adult faith in those seeking answers to the serious questions and issues of life. These talks will be from 7pm (until about 8pm) and will continue every Tuesday and Friday at the same time in the Parish Center. These catechesis are brought to the parish by the missionary team of the Neocatechumenal Way, a new experience in the life of the Church, which our late Pope Saint John Paul II called, "an itinerary of Catholic faith formation valid for our society and our times." This will be a marvelous opportunity to rediscover the fruits that your baptism holds for this life, and also to invite those you know who have strayed from the Church to hear the Good News.

Womankind

With times being as trying as they are, more mothers than ever are seeking help! You may fill the baby bottles with change or cash, or a check made out to "Womankind" or simply scan this QR code to go directly to the St. Leo the Great's Baby Bottle Drive for Womankind-donor page to donate using a credit card. Thank you for your generosity! All baby bottles need to be returned to the Church or Rectory Office by the weekend following Father's Day, June 15/16! First Reading: Acts 10:25-26, 34-35, 44-48

Peter was originally skeptical about preaching the Gospel to non-Jews. Then one day, the Holy Spirit summoned him to preach to the pagan army officer Cornelius and his household. The result, as we shall see, is the first recorded conversion of Gentiles to Christianity.

Second Reading: 1 John 4:7-10

The tradition of the apostle John's teachings is expressed in what is called the first letter of John. There is a legend that John in his old age would simply repeat over and over to his people, "Love one another." Today's passage from that letter particularly illustrates this story.

REFLECTIONS BY LUKE BROWN | SACRED HEART COUNSELING

In this weekend’s Gospel, Jesus tells us to love each other as He has loved us. We Americans tend to have an emphasis on independence that can lead us to isolation from our neighbors not only physically but emotionally and spiritually. While independence is a good thing, it can be problematic if taken too far. No man is an island and God made us for each other. I often like to ask individuals if the communities they spend time with are making them the person that they want to be. Is your community making you a better spouse, parent, and Catholic? If not, it might be a good time to reevaluate how you spend your time with others. In this week’s Gospel, we hear the story of the man who considers himself to be above the people around him while the tax collector knows that he is in need of mercy and grace. The reality is that we are all like the tax collector in that we need these things not only from God but from the people around us. I was surprised at the irony recently when I looked up the origin of the phrase, “Pull yourself up by your bootstraps.” It turns out that it is from a late 1800s physics textbook illustrating the impossibility of lifting oneself off the ground by the bootstraps. This phrase is often used to mean that we need to try harder on our own to accomplish things. However, this is not possible. We need to support and be supported by the people around us. This week, consider spending time reflecting on and evaluating your community as well as consider ways that you can support and be supported by the people in your life. — LUKE BROWN

PRACTICING CATHOLIC

By Colleen Jurkiewicz Dorman

As I Love You

This week my children were learning about energy. We set up an experiment with toy cars — one was placed in front of another, and a third was pushed into the two stationary ones.

The forward motion caused the front car to move, but not much. “Most of the energy goes into the car in the middle, not the car on the end,” my daughter concluded.

I asked her why she seems to have so much energy, and I seem to have so little.

“Because you’re old,” she replied confidently.

Most days I feel like that first car, barreling at life with all my energy and love and good intentions, only to have it almost entirely absorbed by the proverbial middle car. It’s so easy to be discouraged. The devil so badly wants us to feel discouraged.

But the law of love is not unlike the law of conservation of energy. Love is neither created nor destroyed. It is only transferred from one form to another. And yes, sometimes it certainly seems like it disappears. It appears to get lost between my hands and the plate of dinner that goes uneaten or evaporates off of my lips as words I fear are never heard. It is spat upon as a commandment the world would prefer I do not keep.

But we are not called to simply love one another — to love when it seems effective and productive and appreciated. We are called to love as Christ loved: recklessly, selflessly, and yes, even without logic. We are called to love with a love that doesn’t give up and is never withdrawn. A love that doesn’t fear death or the world’s hatred. A love that stands willing to argue, to be reviled, to be dismissed.

We are called to be that first car, hurtling ourselves against a world that isn’t ready to accept or understand us. And we trust that, even when we can’t see how, the love that seems to disappear simply changes forms.

“This is my commandment:
love one another as I love you.”

— John 15:12

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

Dear Parishioners,

It's proving to be a very busy time of the year for me, but I continue to find my ministry here at St. Leo's to be so enjoyable, thanks to your support and kindness. We are always working to think of ways that our parish community can grow, not so much in number (as good as that is) but in strength, in faith, in meeting your spiritual needs and in doing our best as a parish community to join with the whole Church in proclaiming the Good News. I still have a couple more people to introduce to you whom I believe will be great additions to our parish and school communities, but for now I need to say a word about the children who received their First Holy Communion during the 11am Mass last Sunday.

We had 12 children who received this Sacrament and I am so proud of their parents for the commitment they made to bring their children to our Faith Formation Sessions these past few months as we helped the children prepare for this important sacrament. As you know, we made a big change in our sacramental preparation for First Communion and for Confirmation. Changes are always a bit scary, but we knew that a different approach was very much needed. I'm happy to say that due to the parents, grandparents and guardians of these children, the year went along very successfully. These children were not only present at our Faith Formation Sessions on Sunday morning, but at the 11am Mass as well. In the past, it was so discouraging to prepare students for the Eucharistic Sacrament but then fail to see them at Mass on the weekend. It just didn't make sense. Of course none of us are perfect and that's why we are all "Practicing" Catholics...because we all need to practice, over & over again, the responsibilities of a living faith. So I am grateful that the students & their family members were willing to make the sacrifices necessary to grow in their relationship with God and the parish community. We are so happy that these children are now receiving the Eucharist with us. May they all continue to be nourished every week by the Body & Blood of Christ.

Congratulations to Vincent Rongone & Elizabeth DeCaro who will be married this weekend. They are both faithful to our Eucharistic worship each week and I know they will be a great reminder to us of the marriage of Christ with His Bride, the Church. May they know many happy years together.

The Confirmation students (who will be Confirmed by Abbot Hoover next Saturday during the 4pm Mass) will be traveling to Our Lady of Lourdes Shrine in Euclid this Sunday. I hope I can join them there as my grandmother & family used to go to this sacred place when I was a child (and I have since celebrated Mass there both in the chapel and at the outdoor shrine). These students have also been preparing for this sacrament during our Faith Formation Sessions on Sunday mornings. We look forward to their reception of the gift of the Holy Spirit next weekend. The Confirmation candidates from Mary Queen of Peace and St. Thomas More will also be joining us as it makes it easier for the Bishops and Abbot to confer the sacrament on the students from several parishes at one of the churches instead of going to each one individually. We welcome all those who will be joining us.

We now have 32 people signed up for our trip to Italy next March. There is a limited number who can join us so that we keep it manageable but there is still time to sign up if you are interested in going. A small deposit of $300 is required and you can get more information about the trip by visiting our website at leothegreat.org. I'm looking forward especially to visiting some new places but also the old favorites, especially Rome and Assisi. Viva la Pasta!
